

Until The End

You may not know where I'm coming from
And you may not know what to do
But deep inside your heart I pray for room
To safely keep me and you
To safely keep me and you

And so the truth will fall
Like a hammer to the ground
When the blinds of fascination
Leave our eyes
And they'll be nothing left
But the beauty within
Will you stay by me till the end
Till the end

I feel we've delved into the deepest sea
And I know our souls have been the guide
The way you think is like no one I know
I want to see where this will go
I want to see where we can go

And so the truth will fall
Like a hammer to the ground
When the blinds of fascination
Leave our eyes
But the beauty within
Will you stay by me till the end

I just can't live holding onto a question in my heart
And I understand for both of us this may be hard
But in the simple things I know that I can find
The reasons you've entered my life
The reasons you've come into my life

And so the truth will fall
Like a hammer to the ground
When the blinds of fascination
Leave our eyes
But the beauty within

Will you stay by me till the end
Till the end
